

Helping dads solve an age-old Mother's Day dilemma

Sally Collings, The World According to Kids author, offers the perfect Mother's Day solution for harassed dads.

Mother's Day is drawing near. Soon fathers all over the country will be tackling the biggest challenge of all: buying a present from the kids so they can give it to mum.

But what to buy? Flowers, chocolates, power tools – they've done it all before.

Here's the answer ... Author Sally Collings is offering signed copies of her latest book, The World According to Kids, inscribed with a personal message.

The World According to Kids is a gorgeous collection of quotes from children: funny and wise, cheeky and thoughtful, all illustrated with cute and quirky drawings. It's the perfect gift for mums everywhere, as well as grandparents, mums-to-be – anyone who gets a kick out of the things kids say.

This special offer for Mother's Day is only $20.00 including P&P. Exclusively available at www.redhillpublishing.com.
